Chapter 124: The Divine Herds and Flocks

The Divine Triad, masters of their respective realms, sought companionship and guardians beyond their humanoid creations. Each member of the Triad crafted herds and flocks of majestic, mythical creatures to grace their castles and serve as both symbols of their power and protectors of their domains.

Ashborn's Herds

Ashborn, the Absolute Celestial Being, infused his divine light into the creation of elegant and noble creatures to roam the skies of the Absolute Castle.

1. Pegasuses:

Description: Winged horses with gleaming silver coats and radiant manes that shimmer like starlight. Their wings are immense and feathered, trailing celestial dust as they soar.

Abilities: Capable of harnessing Ashborn's light to form protective barriers and strike enemies with beams of purifying energy.

Role: Guardians of the skies above the Absolute Castle, ensuring no darkness encroaches upon its sanctity.

2. Flying Unicorns:

Description: Majestic creatures with snow-white bodies, golden hooves, and luminous horns that radiate healing light. Their wings are smaller than those of the pegasuses but just as powerful.

Abilities: Their horns channel divine energy, capable of healing allies and dispelling curses. Their presence brings tranquility to all who behold them.

Role: Protectors of the inner sanctums of the Absolute Castle, ensuring peace and harmony within.

Sung Jin-Woo's Flocks

Sung Jin-Woo, the Absolute Humanoid Being and Shadow Monarch, crafted creatures from the essence of shadows and primordial power, imbuing them with unmatched strength and ferocity.

1. Griffins:

Description: Beasts with the body of a lion and the wings and head of an eagle, cloaked in dark gray feathers with glowing amber eyes. Their talons gleam like sharpened obsidian.

Abilities: Masters of aerial combat, capable of creating whirlwinds of shadow with their wings and striking foes with razor-sharp talons.

Role: Sentinels of the Umbra Citadel's skies, patrolling its perimeter and striking down intruders.

2. Black Wyverns:

Description: Sleek, dragon-like creatures with pitch-black scales and glowing violet eyes. Their wings are vast and bat-like, trailing wisps of shadow as they glide.

Abilities: Breath destructive streams of shadowflame, capable of disintegrating foes. Their agility in the air makes them deadly hunters.

Role: Guardians of the outer regions of the Shadow Realm, ensuring the safety of Sung Jin-Woo's domain.

Sung Su-Ho's Creations

Sung Su-Ho, the Absolute Dragonic Being and Dragon Monarch, channeled the power of fire and molten fury to forge creatures of unparalleled majesty and wrath.

1. Phoenixes:

Description: Immense birds of flame, with feathers that burn in shades of red, orange, and gold. Their eyes glow like molten suns, and their cries echo with the power of rebirth.

Abilities: Emit waves of intense heat, capable of incinerating entire armies. Upon death, they are reborn from their ashes, making them nearly immortal.

Role: Keepers of Eternis Draconis' skies, radiating fiery light that deters intruders and illuminates the realm.

2. Fiery Fenrirs:

Description: Massive wolf-like creatures with fur of flickering flames and glowing red eyes. Their claws and fangs are forged from molten rock.

Abilities: Create fiery shockwaves with their howls, and their bites are laced with searing heat that burns through even the toughest defenses.

Role: Guardians of Eternis Draconis' land, prowling the volcanic terrain and annihilating threats with their fiery might.

The Role of the Mythical Beasts

Each herd and flock holds a unique place within their respective domains:

1. Symbolism: These creatures embody the essence and glory of their creators. Pegasuses and unicorns reflect Ashborn's purity and light, griffins and wyverns manifest Jin-Woo's shadowy dominance, and phoenixes and Fenrirs display Su-Ho's fiery wrath and rebirth.

2. Guardianship: They serve as additional layers of defense for the castles and the realms, ensuring no force can invade or disturb the sanctity of the Absolute Realm Universe.

3. Companionship: Though divine and omnipotent, the Divine Triad created these beings to bring life and vibrancy to their homes, offering both beauty and functionality.

The skies above the Absolute Castle, Umbra Citadel, and Eternis Draconis are now alive with the presence of these magnificent creatures, each a testament to the creativity and might of the Divine Triad. Their calls, cries, and roars echo across the Absolute Realm, a constant reminder of the unyielding power of their creators.